Tip charges remain despite illegal claim

Town celebrates Day of the Dead

BASINGSTOKE came to a standstill on Saturday night as the Mexican Day of the Dead returned to town for the second time.

Hundreds of walking skeletons paraded their way through the Top of Town as part of two separate parades – sporting lanterns and flags in the process.

Market Place was then turned into a spooky concert, as skull-faced young dancers then performed a number of routines, while a themed projected light show was beamed onto the side of the Willis Museum.

HAMPSHIRE County Council is set to carry on charging the public to dispose of "DIY waste" at Basingstoke's tip, despite a Government ruling that the policy could be illegal.

Residents have had to pay to drop off items such as plasterboard, soil and rubble at the borough's only Household Waste Recycling Centre (HWRC) in Wade Road since October 1.

The introduction of charges has resulted in numerous reports in Basingstoke and Deane of members of the public being left confused as to what they can and can't drop off for free over the last month.

Legislation was agreed last year to stop councils from charging residents to dispose of household waste, with the Department for Communities and Local Government (DCLG) now insisting that this ban "should include" any DIY waste.

But while the county council blasted the Government for trying to "micro-manage" its services, the leader of Basingstoke's Labour group described the latest development as "a joke".

"This has caused people so much hassle, and so many problems, and now we're hearing it could've been unlawful in the first place?" said Cllr Paul Harvey.

"It's tremendously unprofessional, and goes to show Hampshire County Council's sheer incompetence."

Tip charges were introduced as part of a proposed £1.55million cost-saving move by the authority, which included plans to reduce opening hours at each of Hampshire's 24 HWRCs from January 1.

But Hampshire's executive member for environment, Rob Humby, is due to scrap the changes to opening hours today, after the legality of tip charges was questioned – a decision seen as "a victory" by the Liberal Democrats.

Group leader Gavin James said: "The Conservatives have panicked about how badly their cuts are going down with residents, and have come up with an excuse to delay the cuts in the hope people won't notice.

"When you read the details of the proposals, it is clear that there will be even bigger cuts after the elections, and that some waste and recycling centres will be closed entirely."

Hampshire County Council made the decision to introduce both of the changes in August, as an alternative to closing some of its HWRCs countywide, to help plug a £98m savings gap.

And ahead of the decision today, portfolio holder Cllr Humby, warned that the DCLG's comments meant that some centres could again be at risk.

He said: "The Government compels us to reduce running costs, but at the same time seems to want to micro-

Call for 'real change' to homelessness care

By Christian Wilson

A NEW campaign has been launched today to help give those rough sleeping in Basingstoke and Deane a better chance of getting back on their feet.

The 'Real Change, Not Loose Change' campaign is calling on residents from across the borough to help provide long-term solutions for homeless people.

Rather than putting money into the hands of those less fortunate to help them get a hot drink or something to eat themselves, the Social Inclusion Partnership is raising funds for homelessness support centres in the area.

Between 15 and 30 people are estimated to sleep on the streets across Basingstoke and Deane at any time, with the campaign calling on the public to alert homelessness services when they see people rough sleeping.

Social Inclusion Partnership chairman, Terri Reid, said: "Incidents of rough sleeping have increased, and unfortunately it is something that is happening all over the country.

"Many people who find themselves sleeping rough have extremely complex needs, which could include drug or alcohol dependencies.

"Therefore donating money, or even food to specialist, coordinated help gives them the chance of receiving the shelter, food and the support they desperately need."

Basingstoke short-term accommodation centres The Joshua Tree and Oakley Lodge, and Top of Town homeless hostel May Place, were all kept open last year, after the borough council chose to save them with £100,000 of its own funding.

And the authority, which is coordinating the community groups and charities that make up the Social Inclusion Project, also agreed on October 20 to provide an annual grant of £100,000 to only be used to tackle homelessness.

Deputy leader Cllr Reid added: "Our outreach officers try to work with everyone sleeping rough on the streets, but getting them to a stage where they are ready and able to move away from that life can be a long process – often it's not just a case of giving them somewhere to live.

"We all know how heartbreaking it is to see someone sleeping rough, but that person needs access to the right help and support, and sometimes giving money directly isn't the best way to help."

£1m Down Grange expansion approved

PLANS for a £1million makeover of Down Grange Sports Complex have been approved by Basingstoke's council.

The complex in Pack Lane is Basingstoke's biggest sports facility – housing each of the town's hockey, rugby, and athletic clubs.

And it is now set to be expanded, with a new 200-seat athletics stand and hockey pitch with fencing and floodlights due to be built, while the existing rugby field will be replaced with a 3G pitch.

Membership numbers at Basingstoke and Mid Hants Athletics Club (BMHAC), Basingstoke Hockey Club and Basingstoke Rugby Club have increased over the last few years, resulting in a need for enhanced facilities.

Portfolio holder for communities and community safety, Simon Bound, said: "Down Grange already offers fantastic facilities to a number of the borough's sports clubs, but we are in a position where these clubs need and want to grow to meet the demand and their aspirations to compete at a higher level.

"The consultation we ran in 2014 showed overwhelming support for these plans.

"Now the planning application has been successful, we will be working to support the clubs to apply for joint funding to enhance the facilities, and make Down Grange accessible to even more people and a venue for all levels of competition."

Taste of France

BASINGSTOKE: A French Market is set to return to the Top of Town on November 18.

Croissants, cheeses, charcuterie and crêpes will be among the different produce on offer at an array of stalls.

And French bread and tarts, Tartiflette, olives, spices and dried fruits, and Provençal soaps will also be on sale in Market Place and Wote Street.

The event will look to build on the popularity of last year's Italian and International markets, as well as May's Taste at the Top of Town.

Lead on the borough council's town centre programme, Terri Reid, said: "The French Market is an excellent opportunity to purchase original Christmas gifts.

"And, of course, it helps to support existing businesses in the area by attracting more visitors."

Santa Fun Run

SUTTON SCOTNEY: Children's hospices Naomi House and Jacksplace are calling on residents from across Basingstoke and Deane to sign up to their annual Santa Fun Run.

Hundreds of runners dressed up like Father Christmas last year to raise money for the Sutton Scotney charity, which provides care and support to children with life-limiting illnesses, and their families.

Two runs will take place this year, with the first taking place from Southampton Solent University on November 27, and a second departing from Winchester Guildhall on December 4.

Adult tickets cost £16, and children's cost £12, with runners required to also provide a minimum sponsorship of £50 each.

Rapist handed life sentence on appeal

Romeo Cummins has jail term extended at Court of Appeal

By Christian Wilson

A BASINGSTOKE man who pleaded guilty to 16 counts of rape has had his jail sentence extended to life imprisonment.

Romeo Cummins, of Fountains Close, Popley, will now serve a minimum of 18 years behind bars, following a decision by the Court of Appeal.

The 47-year-old preyed on a string of vulnerable women in north Hampshire between 2013 and 2016, and pleaded guilty to 16 counts of rape, one sexual assault, and five drugs offences at a previous hearing.

This led to him being sentenced to 13 years and six months at Winchester Crown Court on August 15, although this punishment was deemed too lenient by the Attorney General's office, who appealed the decision.

Lady Justice Rafferty arrived at the same conclusion following the appeal hearing at the Court of Appeal in London last Thursday – instead handing Cummins a life sentence.

The court heard how Cummins' offending originally came to light in February, when Hampshire Constabulary officers discovered more than 100 videos on his phone of sexual offences taking place, following a stop and search in Aldershot.

He was also found in possession of drugs, including crack cocaine, heroin, and sleeping tablets, with the phone footage clearly showing that some of the women were unconscious as he assaulted them, and may not have known it had happened.

Speaking after last week's sentencing, Detective Sergeant Lisa Cronin, from Northern CID, said: "Romeo Cummins preyed on vulnerable women over a period of three years, and convinced them he had their best interests at heart.

"The trusting relationship he had developed with these women was completely destroyed when he sexually assaulted them while they were in an unconscious state, and filmed the ordeal.

"We are very pleased with the sentence delivered today.

"It is an accurate reflection of the nature of Cummins' offending, and the impact it has had on his victims."

Det Sgt Cronin added: "Their courage and bravery, and the fact that they were able to endure the traumatic experience of being told and shown what he had done to them, has stopped this man from continuing this horrendous behaviour."

£40k up on target

BASINGSTOKE: A team of 24 fundraisers who cycled from London to Brighton on September 11 have smashed their own personal target.

The Team Champion The Wacky Riders group's final tally reached a massive £40,693.62 – having previously set their sights on £30,000.

The riders were raising money for Ark Cancer Centre Charity, who said: "Many thanks to all who supported this worthwhile cause."

"So far, we've managed to avoid closing any of Hampshire's 24 HWRC sites, and made financial savings by other means.

"But, until we get some clarity from Government ministers, we find ourselves in the perplexing position of potentially having to look again at our plans. In the meantime, it seems sensible to hold off bringing in any further changes."

Hartley Wintney's HWRC was previously ranked as one of the most likely to close, which would in turn bring extra visitors to the Wade Road site.

Cllr Harvey blasted the idea of any closures, adding: "If they did that, it would be absolutely disgraceful. There's already been an increase in fly-tipping since they created this major issue for no reason.

"It's a joke, and we should be able to expect better than this."

Leader backs decision on third runway

THE leader of Basingstoke and Deane's council has claimed the decision to hand Heathrow airport a third runway has put the borough's businesses in a "perfect position to benefit".

A decision to extend the west London airport, instead of expanding the UK's second busiest airport at Gatwick, was made by the Government last Tuesday.

Heathrow is the closest international airport to Basingstoke, with the new £17.6billion plans seeking to build a new 3,500m runway, about two miles north of the existing ones, to be operational by 2026.

Borough council leader Clive Sanders has welcomed the expansion as good news for the area.

He said: "This expansion would be a real boost to the south east economy, giving easy access to more and more locations, and increased airport capacity, at a time when business is increasingly being done on the global stage.

"The borough's close proximity to Heathrow puts our businesses in a perfect position to benefit. We are keen to ensure the right infrastructure is in place to capitalise on the expansion by pushing for direct rail links as well as the motorway links we have."

Plans submitted for second M3 services

By Christian Wilson

A SECOND proposal to build a motorway service station on the edge of Basingstoke could soon be in the pipeline.

Developers Moto Hospitality have submitted a screening opinion request to the borough council over plans to build a services the size of 22 football pitches at the M3 Junction 6.

A 100-room hotel, amenity building, 'drive thru' coffee shop, fuelling facilities, and parking space for 620 cars and 50 heavy goods vehicles are proposed for the northbound carriageway.

This comes at a time when a full planning application is also being drawn up by a different company for a separate southbound service station just five miles away, near Junction 7, between Dummer and Farleigh Wallop.

Moto Hospitality have questioned whether an Environmental Impact Assessment (EIA) is needed for the site, between Black Dam roundabout and Dickens Lane – insisting the proposal would have "limited environmental effects".

• A 100-room hotel is included as part of the services proposal, which Basing councillor Onnalee Cubitt (right) has described as "bizarre"

But with M3 services already existing in Fleet and Winchester, borough councillor for Basing, Onnalee Cubitt, admitted that plans for two additional ones near Basingstoke were "bizarre".

She said: "Even when the Junction 7 one came in, I didn't understand, because we don't need one.

"We plainly have no need for these service stations in Basingstoke, it's bizarre.

"The distance between Fleet and Winchester is nothing.

"I'm open to their cases being put forward, but I really don't know how residents will react."

It is unclear at this stage whether the Moto Hospitality proposal, and the application by Applegreen Plc to build near Junction 7, are linked.

Deputy leader of the council, Terri Reid, who has previously spoken out against the idea of a motorway services to the south of Basingstoke, expressed her surprise at a second proposal coming through.

She said: "It's bemusing, I don't know who would need it.

"The first thing I thought was it must be the same company. I would've been against it, but at least there would've been some sense to it then.

"I don't see how it will benefit. I know they'll say it'll generate jobs, but at what cost?"

Think random

HAMPSHIRE: The county's police force has given its backing to a campaign urging people to protect themselves from identity fraud.

Statistics from the Government show that only 33 per cent of people in the south east are currently following advice to use strong passwords made up of three random words.

A total of 23 per cent of people in the region have also revealed they have shared their passwords with other people, with the Government's cyber security campaign, Cyber Aware, urging residents to keep their passwords to themselves.

Hampshire Constabulary is also calling on the residents to 'Think Random'.

Detective Chief Superintendent Ben Snuggs said: "Don't tell anyone else what it is, and make sure you pick a different password for your sensitive personal data, such as banking, email and social media."

CHINEHAM: The Inspire Business awards will be held at the Hampshire Court Hotel, in Chineham, next Thursday.

Spooky carnival grips the town centre

By Christian Wilson

HUNDREDS of residents painted their faces and paraded through a spooky-looking Top of Town on Friday night.

Basingstoke's historical heart was lit up by skulls and lanterns as the town came together to celebrate local ancestry, culture and diversity as part of the Mexican Day of the Dead.

Set up as an alternative to Halloween, the Latin American-inspired festival, known as Dia de los Muertos, brought an eerie carnival atmosphere to the town centre.

While street entertainment, children's storytelling, and face painting sessions took place during the day, the real fun started when the sun went down, and the lights started to dim.

Dancers dressed as skeletons snaked their way up Church Street and Wote Street as part of two separate nighttime parades, flanked by an array of musicians, banners and lanterns.

They met each other at Market Place, with youngsters from JG Dance and Basingstoke Academy of Dance then performing in front of the Willis Museum, which was lit up with skulls, spinning lights, and a giant skeleton.

• Children dressed up as illuminated skeletons

The Mexican Day of the Dead, which took place for the first time in Basingstoke last year, is part of Basingstoke and Deane Borough Council's programme to attract more visitors to the town centre.

Lead of the town centre programme, Cllr Terri Reid, said: "It was wonderful to see so many people turn out and join in the Mexican Day of the Dead celebrations in Basingstoke's historic heart.

"The event brings something different to the Top of Town, and it was fantastic to see such a diversity of local people embracing the theme and supporting the parade, and participating in the other activities taking place throughout the day and night."

Force plan to stop assaults on police

By Christian Wilson

HAMPSHIRE police officials signed a new pledge on Tuesday to back up the county's plan to stop assaults on officers.

A total of 1,118 Hampshire Constabulary officers were subjected to assaults, ranging from being spat at to being kicked and punched, between April 1, 2015 and March 31 this year.

To help bring a stop to this abuse, the force has worked with Hampshire Police Federation to develop the country's first dedicated plan, which has since been adopted by other forces, including the Metropolitan police.

Hampshire's chief constable Olivia Pinkney was among those who signed the seven-point plan this week in a bid to show the public that officer assaults should never be seen as "just part of the job".

Chief Con Pinkney said: "Officers and staff come into contact with people who are sometimes going through the worst experience of their lives, but this doesn't give people the right to ever verbally or physically abuse our people.

"An attack on one of our officers or staff is an attack on all of us. If someone is hurt while on duty, the impact is huge.

"We, of course, are working to do everything possible to reduce these sort of incidents happening, but we must ensure we look after our people if the worst happens."

The plan includes a pledge to treat assaults on officers in the same manner as ones on members of the public, and to ensure that officers are never required to investigate incidents involving themselves, as had been known to occur previously.

It also sets guidelines for victims to complete an Accident Management System (AMS) report to ensure that assault accounts are collated properly.

Hampshire is logged as having the second highest number of incidents in the country, due to the force including data from crime recording systems and not just health and safety records.

The Home Office is calling on other forces to follow Hampshire's lead.

Hampshire Police Federation's chairman John Apter said: "Nobody should be assaulted and treated like a second-class victim.

"This isn't about officers being treated better than other people, it's about them being treated the same as other victims of crime.

"We are changing the culture within policing with our work in Hampshire."

Hampshire hospitals staff shine at awards

HAMPSHIRE'S hospital trust staff dominated a regional awards ceremony, picking up four of the nine honours up for grabs.

The Outstanding Learner of the Year award was jointly awarded to the Hampshire Hospitals NHS Foundation Trust's (HFFT) Dr Richard Healy and student nurse John Edwards.

Dr Richard Thomas was named as the Inspiring Educator of the Year at the Health Education England Wessex Shine Awards for his work with trainee doctors, as the trust's foundation programme director. HHFT's Rachel Newell, Lucy Chilcott, and Lucy O'Beirne won the High Performing Education and Training Team of the Year for their work in improving education for nurses in critical care.

HHFT deputy chief executive, Donna Green, who attended the ceremony on October 20, said: "Congratulations to all of our amazing winners and finalists."

She added: "Winning so many awards shows how seriously we at Hampshire hospitals take education and training."

Honouring fallen heroes

By Christian Wilson

BASINGSTOKE and Deane will remember the war heroes who bravely served their country next week.

Friday, November 11 will represent 98 years since hostilities were ended between the Allied Forces and Germany in the First World War.

And the borough council will pay their respects on Armistice Day by marking the 11th hour of the 11th day of the 11th month with the observance of two minutes' silence.

The ceremony at the War Memorial, in London Road, will also see Basingstoke and Deane's mayor, Jane Frankum, lay a wreath on behalf of the council.

A parade and Remembrance Sunday service will take place two days later, with a procession from Carston's car park at 10.30am to the memorial, via New Road.

Road closures will be in place at Victoria Street, Hackwood Road, London Road and New Road while the parade takes place, before wreaths will be laid, and a service led by the mayor's chaplain Arthur Botham.

Everyone is welcome to attend the events, and leave their own poppy crosses in remembrance of relatives or friends, with the mayor urging people to come and pay their respects.

"It is so important that we remember the sacrifices made by all our armed forces, in order that future generations are able to live in peace and freedom," said Cllr Frankum.

"This is so personal to me, as my grandfather and brother served in the Army.

"My grandfather in the First World War, and my father did nearly 28 years' service, including serving during the Second World War.

"He was a founder member of our current Red Berets in 1942, and my late husband was a civilian worker at RAF Odiham."

The mayor also encouraged the public to buy a poppy, and "wear it with pride", to help support military charity the Royal British Legion Poppy Appeal.

She added: "Anyone who would like to come along and pay their respects at either of these events is indeed very welcome."

Bonfire Night calls for safety

BASINGSTOKE and Deane residents are being urged to remember the fireworks code when celebrating over the next few months.

Bonfire Night is due to take place on Saturday, with New Year's Eve and Chinese New Year then set to follow respectively.

With fireworks expected at each of these events, Hampshire Fire and Rescue Service (HFRS) has called on the public to follow its safety code.

Residents are advised to never go back to a lit firework – even if it hasn't gone off, to always keep a bucket of water nearby, to take fireworks out of their box one at a time, and to only light them at arm's length.

With this in mind, the Safer North Hampshire community safety team – which is run partly by Basingstoke and Deane Borough Council, has called on residents to keep themselves safe.

Chairman Cllr John Kennett said: "We hope people adhere to the firework code, and celebrate fireworks night and all of the other exciting events to come in the next few months in a safe and happy atmosphere.

"There are lots of organised fireworks displays around the area too, where people can have fun."

• The SIM team receive their award

Royal award for mental health project

A HAMPSHIRE Constabulary-led partnership to help mental health patients has been recognised with a national award endorsed by royalty.

The Serenity Integrated Mentoring (SIM) project was named as the winner of the HRH The Prince of Wales Award for Integrated Approaches to Care at the Nursing Times award on Wednesday last week.

SIM focused on six repeat patients struggling with their own behaviour over 18 months from June 2013.

The results saw a reduction in crisis calls to police and ambulance, exhausted family members feeling more reassured and involved in the recovery of relatives, and mental health nurses reporting less abusive behaviour.

SIM also saw the Isle of Wight NHS Trust, and Wessex Academic Health Science Network work with Hampshire police.

Project lead Sergeant Paul Jennings said: "All of us are delighted and humbled at this recognition for the difference we're making in supporting mental health patients and their families to change lives and prospects for the better."

Hospice's will writing scheme

A SUTTON Scotney children's hospice has launched a scheme across Basingstoke and Deane to help residents write their will for free.

Naomi House and Jacksplace has linked up with Basingstoke solicitors Wills Chandler and Tadley's Rowberry Morris as part of its 'Make Your Will Fortnight'.

Both companies will waive their normal basic or standard will writing fee in return for a donation of some kind to Naomi House and Jacksplace, which provides care and support for children with life-limiting illnesses.

Head of fundraising at the charity, Paul Morgan, said: "We are delighted Wills Chandler and Rowberry Morris have agreed to support our appeal. Make Your Will Fortnight is a wonderful opportunity to support Naomi House and Jacksplace, while tackling an important part of your own personal affairs.

"Everyone can benefit from making or reviewing their will, particularly if you have recently moved house, had children, divorced, retired or married.

"In doing so, you will be helping hundreds of local children, young people and their families."

The scheme runs until next Friday. Contact your chosen solicitor to take part.

Minister commits to review of A34 safety

By Adam Flinn

A FULL safety review of the A34 will be carried out in anticipation of future improvement work to the road.

MPs debated the issue in Westminster last Wednesday, calling for the Government to do more to improve safety and ease congestion on the A34, following two fatal crashes over the summer.

Three-year-old Isla Wiggin and her unborn baby brother died in an eight-vehicle collision at Hinksey Hill in Oxford on August 25.

Tracy Houghton, 45, her two sons Ethan, 13, and Josh, 11, and her step-daughter Aimee Goldsmith, 11, were killed in a pile-up between four lorries and four cars near the East Ilsley junction in Berkshire on August 10.

On Monday, lorry driver Tomasz Kroker was jailed for 10 years at Reading Crown Court for causing their deaths when he crashed into their car while looking at his phone.

North West Hampshire MP Kit Malthouse raised issues about traffic on the A34 when he spoke during the debate.

He said: "I have been very concerned with the junction of the A303 and A34, not actually in my constituency by about 100 yards, but used by constituents.

"One of the other impacts as well is the slightest delay on the A34, the alternative routes which are more rural in nature such as the A343 which runs down from Highclere to Andover, becomes completely jammed with lorries trying to avoid the traffic."

As well as an immediate safety study, roads minister John Hayes promised "technological changes" that could be introduced.

These would include more digital signs being installed, and detection loops and CCTV cameras to monitor traffic.

Also mentioned was the possibility of upgrading the A34 to motorway status further down the line, which Mr Hayes said the Government would "need to think through".

Alisdair Cunningham, founder of the A34 Action Group – set up in the wake of the collision on August 10 – was generally pleased with what was said in the debate. He said: "I think it was a very good summary of some of the safety and economic concerns.

• Kit Malthouse speaking during the debate

"We're very pleased John Hayes has agreed to a safety review, I really hope that's disclosed to all the stakeholders and will be summarised for the public so any actions or lack of action is justified.

"One thing is he made reference to the work going on with the digital signs and CCTV – I'm not discounting those, but there needs to be some short-term and long-term measures to ensure safety."

Sudoku

The objective is to fill a 9×9 grid with digits so that each column, each row, and each of the nine 3×3 sub-grids that compose the grid (also called "boxes", "blocks", "regions", or "sub-squares") contains all of the digits from 1 to 9. The puzzle setter provides a partially completed grid, which for a well-posed puzzle has a unique solution.

Actors play a deadly party game

By James Richings

WHEN six people secret game on Halloween at a rustic island cottage, little do they expect the consequences.

When inspecting the house for clues to help them solve their quest, they come across secret passageways, incriminating letters, hidden compartments, bodies in the window seat and a 25-year-old unsolved mystery twist, with the winner of the game picking anything as their prize.

This then turns towards an unexpected and terrifying conclusion that will be unveiled when murder mystery thriller, 'A Party to Murder' comes to The Haymarket in Basingstoke from Wednesday, November 9 to Saturday, November 12.

Actor Oliver Mellor, best known for portraying Matt Carter in, 'Coronation Street' from 2010 to 2013 told the Observer: "I've been to Basingstoke before and the play was, 'A Murder Has Been Arranged'. I remember it well.

"My friends and family were watching and a butterfly landed on me on stage – it stole the show!"

He then added: "We've had a great response so far, so expect lots of action and suspense.

"It's a murder mystery with plenty of dark humour."

Written by Marcia Kash and Douglas E. Hughes and performed by the popular Talking Scarlets Theatre Company, Oliver comes to Basingstoke to portray Willy; a former professional football player who was paralysed after a car accident.

Despite being in a wheelchair, Willy has been described as the joker of the pack as Oliver's character is always making inappropriate wise cracks.

And Oliver hopes the audience at the Wote Street venue will feel entertained and moved when they see the show during its four-day run.

"It's been a challenge to play a character with this disability so I hope I do it justice.

"I hope it moves them, makes them laugh, makes them jump and keeps them guessing till the end.

"I hope it inspires them to watch more live plays whilst giving them a new side to dramatic theatre they may not have seen before."

Oliver also had a word of advice for wannabe thespians: "If you want to get into acting, you've got to be brave and make bold choices.

"Don't play safe but always prepare yourself well and walk out the audition thinking 'I did everything I could'.

"Also, never take yourself too seriously and learn to take criticism."

Tickets cost from £13 to £24.

The Turn turn up

COVERS band The Turn will be arriving at The Falkners Arms in Fleet tomorrow night, Friday, November 4.

The four-piece group arrive at the Falkners Close boozer to perform tracks by the likes of Thin Lizzy, Jimi Hendrix, AC/DC and many more, as they hope to get the weekend started in the best possible way.

"This will be a varied and well-polished set performed by an experienced four-piece band, featuring a sensational lead guitarist, excellent three-part harmonies, and a solid rhythm section," drummer Nick Jones said.

Formed in 2007, the covers group are made up of Paul Goddard on acoustic guitar and lead vocals, drummer Nick Jones, lead guitarist and vocalist Nick Ritchie and Ian Smith on bass and vocals.

When asked about their band name, Nick said: "In one of our previous incarnations, we were sometimes asked when arriving at venues if we were 'the turn'.

"This is a generic reference to a musical stage act which originated in early music halls and clubs.

"So, we figured that we can now honestly reply to that question with 'well, yes, we are actually'!"

The gig is free and starts at 9pm.

Awsum show in Basingstoke

By James Richings

JAN Jack's Laughter-House's monthly comedy bill will continue on Thursday, November 10 with three comedians at the Red Lion Hotel.

The penultimate line-up of the year will see Jonny Awsum, Dan Evans and Jack Barry all share their wit, gags, punch lines and funny fables at the Basingstoke comedy club, with MC Phil Dinsdale compering the event.

And for Jonny, the comedian and musician is looking forward to returning to the Red Lion Hotel Lane venue.

He performed at the Laughter-House in 2012.

"Making a room of strangers laugh and some of the perks is one of the best things about being a comedian," he told the Observer.

"I am writing this on a plane flying back from Ibiza where I have just played a jet ski festival... I rest my case.

"And since musical comedy is my bread and butter, the show I am writing at the moment is going to have a little more story telling in it so I wouldn't be surprised if some of that creeps into my club sets."

Basingstoke is just one of many places Jonny has visited since becoming a professional comic as well as gigs in Cyprus, Slovakia, Austria and Hong Kong are just some of the countries that Jonny has visited in the last few years as the gigs have became for frequent, with the funny man recently returning from a set in Ibiza.

And with the comic going on a 54-date tour this autumn, which started at the beginning of October and will conclude on New Year's Eve, Jonny knows that all fans will be appreciative of his work, as comedy is very subjective.

He has also got plans to a show at the O2 Arena, but insists the road getting will not be easy.

"My friend's mum once came to see me and after the show she said 'haven't you got any jokes?–I think she thought I'd be doing stuff like 'so I went to the doctors the other day...'" he said.

After my first hour show, Chortle said 'Awsum makes the people he involves feel like champions' and I loved reading it, as it's always my aim.

"I'm not into making anyone feel bad, I want to celebrate who has come out to the show. "

He then added: "I am currently on a mission to play at the O2 Arena.

"I promised my daughter I would do this when she was a baby and now aged four she wants to know when it's going to happen.

The DS4 Crossback BlueHDi 180

'I like the car but not the price'

THE new DS4 is a decent-looking car actually and is available in two distinct body styles. The one you are looking at here is called the 'Crossback' which I would say is the better looking out of the two.

By Anthony Yates

DS4 embodies the spirit of avant-garde in being luxurious, beautifully finished and inspiring to drive. Well, let's see if what I found matches that statement perfectly.

DS Automobiles says that the

• DS4 Crossback BlueHDi 180

Power and efficiency:

Powered by a four-cylinder diesel engine that is modern in its ability to produce some stunning performance figures as well as a decent return on fuel economy and power. Top line figures: 180hp with 400Nm of torque, a top speed of 117mph and a 0-62 time a shade under 11 seconds.

My test car was also fitted with a six-speed automatic gearbox that was smooth and offered some additional ultra-fast gear changes, along with a decent amount of power delivery.

To be honest – I'm struggling to find the reasons why anybody would buy a DS4 with a manual gearbox when it's clear to me that the automatic gearbox is the one to have.

On the road:

I was expecting the suspension to feel a little bit soft actually, but to my surprise it felt really sporty into the corners. The steering also felt very light and well weighted which was yet another nice surprise.

Road noise at high speed is also very minimal, even with those big 18in gloss black diamond-cut alloy wheels, but the best bit was how the suspension managed to mask even the most formidable of road surfaces.

Design & technology:

Inside you will find lots of modern technology such as Mirror Screen which uses Apple CarPlay & MirrorLink for Android so you can seamlessly mirror your compatible smartphone. Then there's the DS LED Vision which provides a broad beam that's 51% more powerful on dipped beam and is close to the spectrum of natural light and will help clearly illuminate the road ahead.

Some of the standard equipment on the DS Crossback starts with: 7in colour touch screen, ABS with EBD and EBA, colour reversing camera, cruise control, DAB digital radio, automatic lights and wipers and dark-tinted rear windows. This is also just a small amount of what you can expect to get.

In terms of safety, you also get ESC, driver and front passenger airbags, front lateral/curtain air bags and Isofix child seat anchorage points (x2).

To sum up:

I like the DS4 Crossback, but I don't like the pricing. The base model Puretech 130 S&S six-speed manual starts at about £22,000, and if you decided to buy the model I am reviewing here, then it will set you back a staggering £27,045 (basic OTR costs). Add in a few extras and you are starting to push towards £30,000. For me, that feels like a big ask and I am really struggling to deal with that too.

Town wipe out Staines as they advance in FA Trophy

By Christian Wilson

BASINGSTOKE Town claimed another 4-1 victory on Saturday to sweep aside Staines Town and reach the next round of the FA Trophy.

Terry Brown's side are in the middle of their best run of the season, with the weekend's result being their sixth win in 10 matches in all competitions.

The highlight of that run so far undoubtedly came in the 4-1 win over the then Evo-Stik Southern Premier League table-toppers Slough Town on October 22.

But 'Stoke repeated the scoreline a week later to book an away tie against domestic rivals Dorchester Town in the second qualifying round on November 26.

Basingstoke took the lead after 16 minutes against Staines, when midfielder Richie Whittingham ghosted in at the back post to fire home Robert Atkinson's cross from the left.

Town keeper Alex Tokarczyk was called into action to push Max Worsfold's effort around the post, following the hosts' first real foray into the visitors' half.

But after that scare 'Stoke capitalised on their very next opportunity in the 38th minute to make it 2-0, with skipper David Ray finding the net with his head from Whittingham's free kick.

Basingstoke continued to look the more likely after the break, as Ryman League Premier Division side Staines struggled to create anything of note.

It was no surprise when Aaron Redford grabbed his side's third goal nine minutes into the start of the second half, with the striker's rocket shot flying past Swans' stopper Jack Turner.

A rare opening for the hosts was squandered by Worsfold, who headed against the post when he should have scored, with the ball bouncing straight into the arms of Tokarczyk.

Town grabbed their fourth goal on the 64 minutes, as the woodwork once again helped them out by diverting Ray's header straight into the path of Aaron Jarvis to tap in the rebound.

The only blot on a near-perfect afternoon came with seven minutes left, as Mo Bettemer headed in from close range to stop Town from claiming a clean sheet.

But it was not to matter, as Basingstoke then closed the game out after that to seal progression into the next round.

'Stoke are next in action on Saturday, when they travel to face current leaders Leamington.

Basingstoke mark third win in row

BASINGSTOKE RFC's hot streak continued on Saturday as they claimed their third win in a row.

Gareth Hatherley-Hurford's side ran riot in the second half to claim a 59-5 win over Bognor at Down Grange.

The result saw Basingstoke take their scoring tally for the last three games up to 147 points, – including 21 tries.

After smashing Millbrook 45-21 a week earlier, they scored nine tries against Bognor to take all five points available.

Basingstoke found the visitors a tough proposition in the first half, but took an early lead through James Ephraim's try, with Tom Humberstone adding a conversion.

The hosts grabbed their second try soon after, as Simon Appleby picked up the ball from the back of the scrum and barrelled his way over the line.

But Basingstoke then gave away a number of penalties, with their ill-discipline costing them a try, to take them into half-time only leading 12-5.

However, the second half saw Basingstoke overpower Bognor, going over seven more times.

First, Humberstone made the most of some good work in the scrum to score under the posts, before converting the try himself.

Straight from the restart, Basingstoke broke up field and forced their way over the line through Russell Northcote.

Appleby crashed through the midfield, offloaded to Jon Bird, who passed to Dave Lambert to make it 33-5. Gareth Cripps-Jones then scored his first tries for the club soon after.

And Appleby and Lambert then both grabbed their second tries respectively to round off the scoring.

The win lifted Basingstoke up to fourth place in London Three South West, going into Saturday's trip to Trojans.

Bison boss praises players for reaction to Flames' thrashing

DOUG Sheppard praised his Basingstoke Bison players for responding to the previous week's humbling at Guildford Flames.

The Herd head coach apologised to supporters and blasted his players for what he felt was an "unacceptable" performance in the 5-1 defeat.

But after seeing his side recover to claim their fourth four-point weekend of the season against Swindon Wildcats and Milton Keynes Lightning, he was quick to express his delight this time around.

Sheppard said: "Last Sunday was a wake-up for us.

"Everybody was hungry for this weekend, and impatient to get back and put things right."

He added: "We played well, we set the standard in both games, and we know after last Sunday what we need to do to be competitive each and every night.

"We responded well, we knew what we had to change, and I think we did it well this weekend, and are now in a good place moving forward again."

Sport Bites

5-0 lead lost

HOCKEY: Basingstoke Hockey Club men's 1sts somehow contrived to throw away a 5-0 lead to draw their top-of-the-table clash with Havant 2nds.

'Stoke went into the tie in second place in Hampshire Surrey 1, and looked the much better team in an extremely one-sided first half.

Dean Record, Grant Rouse, Todd Hutcheson, and Daniel Bowden scored before half-time, as Basingstoke ran riot, before Record scored his second to make it 5-0.

But 'Stoke managed to concede five goals in the final 15 minutes to hand Havant the most unlikely of draws, and drop them down to third, heading into Saturday's tie with Chichester 2nds.

Cup thrashing

FOOTBALL: Basingstoke Town Ladies tumbled out of the FA Women's Premier League Cup on Sunday, being thrashed by Chichester City Ladies.

'Stoke were outplayed from start to finish at the Ark Cancer Charity Stadium, as Chichester completed a 5-0 win.

Jade Widdows and Charley Wilson-Blakely both scored two apiece, while Keavy Price also added a fifth for the Sussex-based side.

Basingstoke will face Chichester again in the FA Women's Premier League South West Division 1, in which they currently sit in seventh place, this Sunday.

Buffalo draw

ICE HOCKEY: Basingstoke Buffalo drew their last NIHL South 2 West tie with Bristol Pirates 2-2.

The two sides faced off on October 23, with Kyle Goddard giving the Buffalo a lead in the first period from Mark Austen's assist.

Bristol's Olly Shone then drew his side level midway through the second period, before Joshua Dolphin put them 2-1 up on 47:45.

But a Sam Brooks' score four minutes from time drew Basingstoke level to leave them in fourth place overall.

Bison back on form with two more wins

By Christian Wilson

BASINGSTOKE Bison well and truly put their Guildford Flames hiccup behind them over the weekend as they secured two more wins.

The Herd ground out a hard-earned 2-1 victory at Swindon Wildcats on Saturday to wipe their 5-1 reverse at the Spectrum six days earlier from their minds.

And they put second-placed Milton Keynes Lightning to the sword at Basingstoke Arena the following night – dispatching their rivals 4-0 to stay in fourth in the English Premier League.

Sunday's win was the Stampede's fifth in a row at Planet Ice, and helped them secure a fourth four-point weekend in five weeks, with only the Guildford defeat preventing a perfect five.

Bison forced Milton Keynes netminder Przemyslaw Odrobny into the first of 40 shots faced after just 14 seconds, and duly took the lead 5:46 in through Derek Roehl's sweet finish.

A big save from Bison's Tomas Hiadlovsky to deny Adam Carr from close range then prevented the Lightning from capitalising on a five-on-three advantage at the 15-minute mark, after Declan Balmer and Joe Baird were called for penalties.

The Slovak goalie then pulled off another superb diving stop to thwart Sam Jones at the start of the second period, as the visitors failed to take advantage of another powerplay.

Bison weren't so wasteful with their man advantage on 34:42 however, as Dan Davies tipped home Ciaran Long's drive to make it 2-0. Birmingham-born forward Long then got his name on the score sheet 2:10 into the third period, firing home the rebound after Odrobny saved Roehl's drive.

And with 4:21 left to play, the Lightning restarted the play with an empty net to try and pull a goal back, but instead left the space for Tomas Karpov to score and wrap things up.

Following a feisty scoreless opening period on Saturday, Bison skipper Aaron Connolly and Swindon's Kyle Smith and Aaron Nell were all sent to the locker room for fighting after the break. It happened after Basingstoke had gone 2-0 up, with Roehl scoring from Shaun Thompson's assist on 22:00, and Rene Jarolin firing home on the powerplay on 25:05.

Tempers cooled in the third period, with Wildcats' top scorer Jonas Hoog beating Hiadlovsky from Mark Smith's assist with 3:38 left to play to bring it back to 2-1, but that's the way it stayed.

Basingstoke will look to get revenge over Guildford at home on Saturday.
